Republicans Worry Over Com-

FACTIONS ARE AROUSED

DIFFERENT FACTIONS SEEK TO

Original McKinley Men, New Con-

Right on the heels of their disastrous defeat, the Republicans are now face to face with the awkward job of selecting six delegates to the national convention at Philadelphia. When they revention at Philadelphia. When they refused to choose these delegates at the state convention that named J. T. Hammond for congress and made it necessary for the party to go to the expense of holding another state conexpense of holding another state convention, they gave as their excuse that they did not wish to tear the party wide open on national issues, but were determined to swing every faction into ardent support of Mr. Hammond.

"We'll elect Mr. Hammond now and cross the other bridge when we get to it," was their dictum. They even laughed in derision at the folly of the Democrats for saving the expense of corder of Summit county, who has been in the city for conference, stated Democrats for saving the expense of yesterday that the Democrats carried the county at the special election by good, hard work and superior orone convention and naming their na-tional delegates and congressional nomince at the same time.

They have reached that other bridge now and the troubles are here. One faction, made up of federal office holders and their cuckoos, is determined to encorse the single gold standard, the local black to the single gold standard to the single gold s encorse the single gold standard, the Porco Rican tariff iniquity, imperialism, militarism, trusts and everything that McKinley has done or cares to do.

Another faction, having monkeyed with the buzz saw once, is determined to come down heavy on bimetallism and integrating very law on imperialism and and sing very low on imperialism and trusts. Still another faction favors giving President McKinley's "magnificent" administration a blanket endorsement, wording it so as to mean anything, everything or nothing, as the case de-

But the main fight will be over the selection of delegates. There are those who remained true to McKinley in 1896. They were hunted like outlaws, but They were hunted like outlaws, but kept the faith. Now they do not purpose to lay down and permit the very men who hunted them to walk over their bodies to positions of honor and profit. At the head of these stand Arthur Brown and Lindsay R. Rogers. They purpose to control the delegation to Philadelphia and make it up of men who stood by McKinley before he had jobs to give out.

The men who have climbed into the band wagon since "conditions changed"; who have deserted silver and come out for gold since McKinley's election, are equally determined to show their loyalty now and will fight just as hard to control the delegation. At the head of these stand P. H. Lannan, Thomas Kearns and Heber M. Wells. Between these and standing for any-thing good, bad or indifferent that Mc-Kinley stands for are Arthur Thomas, Gien Miller, Charles O. Whittemore, George A. Smith and other federal of-fice holders who naturally think that McKinley is the greatest president who ever sat in the White House.

Other statesmen who will fight for the chance to help nominate McKinley at Philadelphia are Hon. Bill Glasmann, Joseph Smith of Cache, Wesley K. Walton of Rich, Web Greene of Sanpete, Judge Bartch, Judge Goodwin, J. T. Hammond and Mayor Ezra Thompson, of Salt Lake.

Of course the real fight back of all this is for the control of the federal

Everything that was calculated to tempt the palate was placed before the workers, and they did full justice to it. The bill came to $7.40, and, more for a joke than with the idea of accomplishing anything, the check was marked "O. K., per William Griffiths and C. M. Jackson," and sent over to Republican state headquarters, with the request that it be paid.

Now comes the funniest part of the tale. In a few minutes the boy re-turned with the amount of the bill. The "black list" containing the names of all non-thithe payers in the Mormon church, presented by Apostle Rudger Clawson at the conference Sunday, has been the subject of considerable discussion among church members.

The book contains 10,000 names, and it is the intention of the first presidency to divide the church into districts and place an apostle over each to labor with the people and get them to pay up and have their names erased. A great deal is expected to be accomplished by this method, which is another illustration of President snow's energy and his determination to get the church out of debt, which he expressed at St. George on his tour a year ago and again in the Great Temple priesthood meeting. The results of the preaching have been phenomenal.

Ex-State Senator Ed H. Snow of St. George will be elevated this week to the position of president of the eastern states mission, with headquarters at Brooklyn, N. Y., to succeed William H. Smart, whose failing health will not permit him to return.

The appointment will be made by the first presidency, probably at its meeting with the apostles Thursday next, and will be received with great satisfaction by the young man's many friends.

Mr. Snow is at present in the eastern states, filling a mission, and the news of his promotion will be as great a surprise to him as to his Utah acquaintances, who number thousands.
